LIBRARY MISSION

The Library is an integral part of the Wilmington University academic community and supports the delivery of academic programs by:

• Collecting and facilitating access to information in multiple formats.
• Linking to global networks.
• Guiding our academic community to think critically in the evaluation and ethical use of information.
• Providing adaptive learning spaces and the technologies to support research and the creation of knowledge.
• Preserving the scholarly record and unique content of the University.

VISION

The Wilmington University Library is a destination for the discovery of knowledge, offering research guidance, essential information resources, state-of-the-art technologies, learning spaces, and a service-oriented staff guiding the transformation of information services and innovative collaborations.
Faculty Services

LIBRARY SUPPORT
The Wilmington University Library is dedicated to supporting faculty in their efforts to educate students and promote lifelong learning. Click on Faculty Services from the Library homepage to take a look at the Faculty Resources & Services Guide. The guide will cover all the ways the Library can support you in your courses.

BORROWING MATERIALS
Faculty members can use their Wilmington University ID card to borrow library materials. Use the Discover search box or Delaware Library Catalog to search for books and other materials.

LIBRARY INSTRUCTION
Librarians are available at all sites to provide instruction sessions explaining library services and demonstrating the use of online catalogs/databases. Sessions can be held in the library/learning commons, classroom or online. A course-specific library exercise can be created in Canvas to help develop information literacy skills.

LIBRARY ASSISTANCE SESSION
New to Wilmington University or just looking to brush up on library knowledge? You will learn more about the Library and all the resources we have to offer. This service is available at any Wilmington University location, over the phone and online. Select the Faculty Library Instruction Request link from the Faculty Services page to schedule your appointment.

GET ITEMS FROM OTHER LIBRARIES
Materials not owned by the Library or unavailable online can be borrowed from other libraries. Request and track your materials through the ILLiad system. Click Get Items from Other Libraries from the Library homepage for more information or to place a request.

SUGGEST MATERIALS
Faculty are encouraged to recommend materials in subjects relevant to the curriculum. Suggestions should be directed to the Department Chairs for consideration, after which they will be submitted to us.

MATERIAL DELIVERY
Faculty may request to have items mailed to them. This service is free of charge and includes return postage. Click on WU Library Borrowing from the homepage and then select Material Delivery.

PRINT/ELECTRONIC RESERVE
Provide access to supplementary course materials. All electronic content may be linked to from within Canvas. Print material may be placed on reserve for limited circulation.

COURSE GUIDES & COLLABORATION
Course guides are created by librarians for research assistance, database suggestions, and other useful resources. Request to have a guide created for your course or participate in the creation process by becoming a ‘Collaborator’. This allows you to post additional course resources such as websites, books, or database suggestions.

Library Resources

RESEARCH DATABASES
The Library provides students and faculty with online databases to help support research. Type your terms in the Discover search box or click on Find Articles and More to choose a specific database. Once a database is selected, users will taken to a Wilmington University login page. Log in using your myWilmU email address and password.

STREAMING VIDEOS
The Library offers many video resources for use in your courses. Choose from popular movies, documentaries, news clips and more. See the Streaming Videos Guide for more information.

DELWARE LIBRARY CATALOG
Use the Delaware Library Catalog to search for books and other materials. You may also borrow items from over forty other Delaware Library System libraries using the Place Hold feature.

FIND eBOOKS
The Library provides access to more than one hundred thousand ebooks. Use the Discover search box to get started. For more information on eBooks or to search specific collections, click on Find eBooks from the Library homepage.

FACULTY VIDEOS/DVDs
The Library manages and distributes videos/DVDs used by faculty for instructional purposes. The materials are purchased by the Colleges, housed in the Library, and are circulated only to Faculty.
